The Man on the Street.

During the time of my residence in Bow Island, I have on many occasions had reason to wonder why this favored town has not long ago adopted as its official emblem, a representation of that most useful and conspicuous animal, The Dog. Whenever we go, about the town, we find him. In the place of worship, at our halls, in the bar-room, cafe, shop, and store, and in places of public gathering. The common "garden variety" that is content to haunt the streets alone. I will not mention, he is beneath the notice of all, and, I might say, beneath the feet of all. No, gentle reader, I am not a dog lover. I treat him kindly, have always done so, and will continue to do so. But, when he expresses a desire to take part, prominent or otherwise, in the festivities of our citizens, in the deliberations of our governing bodies, in our entertainments, of whatever nature, I become as adamant, I put my foot firmly down. I say "NO." So that when I daily forth to enjoy the recreation of an evening, I find alone, so far as my canine friend is concerned, I have said that I am an admirer of dogs. I repeat it. When my dog is near I admire him. But one grows tired of admiring a dog, and I would sometimes be pleased to have a fair chance to admire other things. Also, it cannot be. There are many who are such admirers of dogs that they cannot permit their dogs to go unadmired for a moment; so greatly in evidence is this fact that I can tell that the invitation for the next Social event will read, "..... of Yourself and Lady, and dog." I do not vouch for this, it may be only a rumour. But, who will first take the hint?

Red Cross Wants Help.

The primary and foremost object of the Red Cross is the relief of the wounded. But we are all too optimistic with regard to the wounded. We have great confidence in the skill of modern surgeons, and we are apt to exaggerate the rapidity with which cases are cured.

As a matter of fact, a great burden of responsibility and expense is placed on the Red Cross every time a wounded man is taken into a hospital. His care will require months of the utmost care and attention.

With the steady increase in casualties it is evident that the work of the Red Cross increases in geometrical proportion each day that passes. It has also a great and increasing obligation toward the prisoners of war, who are in the hands of the enemy, and even at the conclusion of peace there will be a large unpaid balance of Red Cross obligation.

To discharge these numerous obligations large sums of money are required. None of us are free from the duty of supporting the Red Cross. Its work is essentially a national service.

Those who wish a more practical and cogent argument for their contributions, than the general plea of sympathy and humanity, will find it in the fact that a prosperous Red Cross society is a powerful stimulus to recruiting.

Men will be much more willing to risk their lives for their country when they see that our National Red Cross Society amongst other organizations is in a position to care for them in all eventualities even after the conclusion of peace.

Annual Convention.

The Alberta Temperance & Moral Reform League holds its annual convention in First Baptist Church, Calgary, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 1, 2 and 3, 1916. The usual convention rates are being arranged for on all railroads. It is fully expected that delegates will obtain single return rates.

Special speakers will discuss such subjects as "A substitute for the Bar," "The administration of The Liquor Act by an Independent Commission," "Future Activities of the League," "Mass meetings to be held at 8 o'clock p.m. are to be made especially attractive." On Tuesday evening, Feb. 1st, Rev. F. W. Patterson of the First Baptist Church, Edmonton, will speak on "World-Wide Progress in Temperance." Ex-Controller F. S. Spence of Toronto, Ont., and editor of the Dominion Alliance temperance paper, "The Power," will also give an address on the same night.

Wednesday evening, at 8 p.m., Rev. C. Carruthers, Rector of the Holy Trinity Anglican Church, Edmonton South, will speak on "The Moral Scope of the League," and Mrs. Louise McKinney of Clarendon, provincial president of the W.C.T.U., will give a strong address on "The Educational Work of the Temperance Forces."

The secretary will be glad to give all information to intending delegates regarding railway transportation, places of entertainment in Calgary etc. Extra copies of the program and convention announcements will be had on application. Address: Alberta Temperance & Moral Reform League, Adams Bldg., Edmonton, Alta. W. F. Gold, general secretary.

SUICIDE AT MEDICINE HAT

An 18-year-old young lady, whose home was south of Winnifred, suicided in the city yesterday by taking carbolic acid. She was unconscious when found and did not recover consciousness. She left a note addressed to her mother. It gave no reason for her rash act. As far as can be learned the parents can offer no reason for their daughter's act. The mother has been in the hospital undergoing an operation. She and her daughter were to have returned to their home last night.—Medicine Hat News.

WELL DONE, WINNIFRED!

Let the Good Work Go On.

Winnifred is not going to allow the neighboring towns to have all the credit for money contributed to the Patriotic Fund. On Friday of last week the Ladies' Auxiliary and Farmers' League gave a dinner for supper, followed by a play and dance, in the I.O.O.F. hall, and the proceeds from this, together with what was obtained from collections and an auction sale of three records and two pigs, realized the splendid total of $140.25.

Winnifred is now going to follow this up by holding some time in February a Red Cross concert.

THE TIME HAS COME—YOUR HOUR IS NIGH!

The annual meeting of the Board of Trade will be held on Monday, January 24th, and every member of this organization should and ought to attend what is possibly one of the most important gatherings of the whole year. Owing to the heavy crop last fall and the extra time and labor entailed in harvesting and marketing many of our members, directly and indirectly, were affected thereby, and found it impossible to spare the time to attend the meetings of the Board. During the next few months, however, most of the members should find it convenient to attend, and only a lack of late-out and public spirit can prevent this being accomplished.
